Hi Eura,
Thanks for starting the thread and I absolutely second getting together. I know calendars may be changing in light of the strike. Let's say we check back in about a good time to meet once it's over? Hope you all are well amidst it all.
More soon,
Kay

I'm not sure what everyone's schedules are and definitely want to respect your commitments so could y'all maybe let me know what you'd prefer in terms of a good time of day to hang out? We could grab a meal before work, do happy hour, or find some time on the weekend. Let me know and I can send out a Doodle poll for a good date ☺
